FRANCIS W. PARKER SCHOOL

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA

In Memoriam

Mrs. Irma Grant

We, the Graduating Class of 1966, pause to pay our respects to the memory of Mrs. Grant. As the beloved wife of our Headmaster, we knew her as a lady always interested in our progress and well-being, and concerned about our growth in mind and spirit. It is with true affection and appreciation that we remember her and her efforts in our behalf.

ADMINISTRATION

Congratulations is sometimes an overworked word but no other can replace its meaning, and so we add ours to the Class of 1966 as it takes its place among the illustrious alumni of the Francis W. Parker School. Each class in the fifty-three years of the school's existence has contributed differently not only to the school but to the community as well. We feel confident that the Class of 1966 will be remembered for its spirit, its cooperation, and its own personality.

With sincere best wishes for a wonderful future.

With their advisor, Mrs. Olson, the Upper School Student Council contributed to school life by working on affairs pertaining to the welfare of students. They assisted the Mothers Club in planning the Christmas Dance and they took full responsibility for the Spring Dance. A high light of the year was the visitation to a meeting of the City Council on May 3. They were fortunate in being in the Council Chambers when Astronaut Scott received San Diego's official welcome from Mayor Curran.

The Lower School Student Council and their advisor, Mr. Larson, discussed ideas, problems and other matters brought to their attention. The council's project was the assembling of a guide book for new Lower School students at Francis W. Parker School.

AEGIS STAFF

The Aegis Staff, with welcome encouragement and appreciated help from Mrs. Shore, has worked hard to produce an enjoyable publication for you this year. Many students assisted with the AEGIS to make this fifth year of its existence a worthwhile one.

ATHENE STAFF

The demanding task and interesting work of producing the ATHENE has been accomplished by the all-senior staff shown at the right. The differing ideas and several talents of the staff have blended into the combined effort that is this yearbook. The experiences encountered have been worth much to each staff member.

THE GIRLS' LEAGUE

A new and vital program for every Upper School girl of the Francis W. Parker School was initiated this year for the first time. This promising organization, the Girls' League, held its first meeting on the twenty-ninth of October. At the assembly the League officers were installed. Elizabeth Long was elected as our successful President, Debbie Thomas as our competent Vice President, and the always alert Ellen Moffat as our League Secretary. Grade representatives were also elected, Sue McCoy, 9th; Judy Baker, 8th; and Tammy Hadley, 7th.

A successful year was immediately launched with plans to earn money for Leukemia-stricken children. The funds were raised by having a very successful bake sale.

It didn't take long to organize more ambitious plans. On February the eleventh an elaborate fashion show and tea was sponsored by the League. Many of the members participated, some on planning committees, others as models.

The Francis Parker Girls' League has also made plans for the future. If, indeed, the Girls' League in the following years can be as successful as this one, it will be an organization of achievement and promise.

CLASSES

PRE-KINDERGARTEN

For the Pre-Kindergarten this has been a very active year—highlighted in May—by their move into the new Nursery School building.

They have had many new and exciting experiences including field trips to the Fire Station, the Space Museum and Sea World; a talk given by a San Diego policeman; and many interesting film shows and assemblies.

Apart from their usual routine of study, arts, crafts, songs, dances, and so forth, they have learned for the first time the importance of living and sharing with friends.

They have also taken part in three school performances —at Christmas—at the Poetry assembly—and on May Day.

KINDERGARTEN

Kindergarten is many new and exciting experiences. The children learn how important it is to share with classmates as they work and play. The Kindergarten has completed many projects with paints, paper, scissors and crayons. Each holiday has been celebrated with special programs for parents and friends. The children also participated in the Wassail and the May Day programs. During the year the class took part in a program on space and took field trips to Presidio Park, the Naval Training Station, the Marine Corps Recruit Depot and the Carnation Dairy. The exciting year closed with a trip to the San Diego Zoo.

We have had a very busy year learning the many things that will help us in the school years ahead. We have worked very hard and are happy that we are now able to read and enjoy books. We have studied the new Math and Science and now understand these subjects better as a result. We have enjoyed the Assembly programs so much and thank the teachers who made them possible. We had fun being the "Mary Poppins" people in the May Day program.

We are looking forward to our picnic and also next September when we shall become second graders.

SECOND GRADE

Second Graders have had a busy year with Science, English, Phonics, Reading, Modern Mathematics, and so forth. In addition to all of this work, we have participated in the Christmas program, Pet Day and May Day programs, sang at Chapel three times and made trips to the zoo and the Naval Training Center. What an exciting way to finish the year! — a trip to N.T.C. and have chow there!

Our room mothers were Mrs. Henry Zopatti and Mrs. Thomas Lococo.

—THIRD GRADE

Boys and girls in this year's third grade classes have participated with great enthusiasm in all lower school activities. Hobby show entries were varied and several prizes were won. The third graders also presented numerous entries in the Pet Show, and many students performed in the Talent Show. A trip to the Museum of Natural History highlighted the new science program of the year.

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade included in their study of California, a trip to the Mission de Alcala, and the Serra Museum. Followed by these trips a lunch was provided at Presidio Park.

Rounding off the year of events, the fourth grades took a part in the May Festival, and did very well.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade took several interesting trips during the year. Our tour included North Island Naval Air Station. It was thrilling to see Uncle Sam's latest carriers, cruisers and fighting aircraft.

The class also visited the submarine TREPANG where they saw a close-up of the complex vessel.

The class ended the year with a fascinating trip to look at some of the natural outcroppings and other geological formations in the Lakeside area. These field trips have enriched our school year.

SIXTH GRADE

This year the sixth grade has been engaged in preparation for the challenge of Junior High School. In order to provide the student with a better understanding of a world in which science and technology will continue to play an increasingly important role, the academic areas of modern mathematics and science have been emphasized.

Field trips have been designed to acquaint the student with services provided by our national and municipal governments.

This has been an interesting year. Bob Davis and Rich Freer represented our sections at the Student Council. Games nights were new to many of us. Our class was very well represented at the Christmas and Spring dances, Mother-Daughter and Father-Son banquets, Science Fair, Hobby Day, Pet Day and Field Day. We also gave Coach our full support in athletic and sports programs. Many of us participated in RUMPELSTILTSKIN. The class won more than its share of places on the Headmaster's List and the Honor Roll. In the Citizenship competition, each section vied so hotly for recognition that the entire class was awarded the Citizenship trip to Disneyland. As was said before, this has been an interesting year.

During this year, we have been busy at many things. It has been a year of real progress for us who have applied ourselves — and a year of progress nonetheless to some degree for the rest of us. Some have achieved academic recognition — others have earned notice in athletics — while others have participated in drama. All of us have tried in our own way to achieve identity and a place in our class. At the same time, we have attempted to develop a sense of responsibility and of accomplishment in order to assume the privileges and the responsibilities of our senior year.

CLASS HISTORY

This school year of 1966 has experienced the hustling and bustling of nineteen ninth graders. Two of our class members, Debbie Hadley and Bob Swanson, are old timers from the Kindergarten class back in '56. The following year they were joined by Ellen Moffat but she stayed with them only for a brief time. It wasn't until Debbie and Bob reached the fourth grade that they met two others, Gary Bench and Ricky Phillips. These four classmates were then joined in sixth grade by Debbie Shattuck, Jamie Hanrahan and Anne Durrill. A year later, in the seventh grade, Liz Long, Virginia Kelly, Mike McLees, Debbie Thomas, Sue McCoy and Bob Dickinson joined the class. At the same time Ellen Moffat returned to us. Jeanne Ford, Linda Longley, Mike Hegarty and Mike Satterlee greeted us in the eighth grade. The arrival of Kevin Schlect this year completed our graduating class.

The ninth grade this year has been busy with the planning and execution of many events. The Student Council elections placed Jeanne Ford as President, Jamie Hanrahan as Vice-President and Linda Longley as Secretary. The Council officials have proved to be a strong team in producing improvements and in creating new ideas which were put into action for the student body.

The Girls' League was established for the first time at our school. It set an excellent example this year with their numerous events and activities. The League was led to success by its President Elizabeth Long and assisted by her Vice-President Debbie Thomas and Secretary Ellen Moffat.

Jamie Hanrahan and Debbie Shattuck were a highly successful team as Co-Editors in creating and putting out a superior AEGIS. Anne Durrill was the editor of the ATHENE and she, with her co-editor, Virginia Kelly, were always eager to make this year book better than ever. Sue McCoy was outstanding as Assistant for lay-out for the ATHENE as was Kevin Schlect, writer of the Sports Review.

Ellen Moffat and Bob Swanson did well as Mary and Joseph in the Christmas Tableaux which is traditionally given during the Christmas season. Another event which is given during this time is the Wassail program.

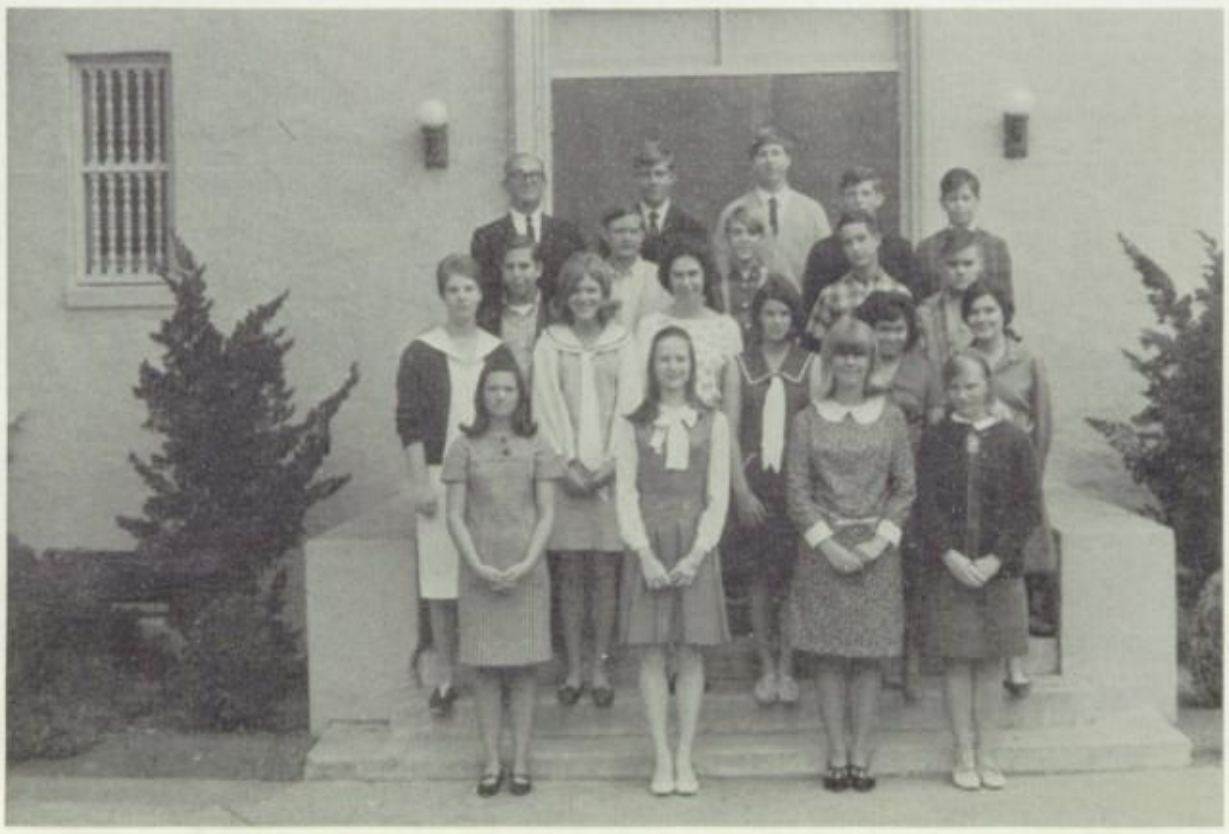
Mike McLees was our top baseball pitcher and struck out many an opposing batter. Also in the way of sports was our active tennis champ, Bob Dickenson.

Debby Hadley was one of our most eminent classmates and also was head of the class academically. Ricky Phillips submitted much useful material to the Aegis.

Mike Satterlee acted well as one of the Wise Men in the Christmas Tableaux and Mike Hegarty was one of our active sports participants.

The ninth grade produced two one-act plays. The cast of PATCHWORK QUILT included Elizabeth Long, Linda Longley, Susan McCoy, Gary Bench, Debbie Shattuck and Bob Dickinson. The other play was entitled THE OLD LADY SHOWS HER MEDALS with a cast of Virginia Kelly, Kevin Schlect, Debbie Thomas, Ellen Moffat, Bob Swanson and Anne Durrill. Both plays were performed very well and excellently received.

With a Ditch Day to Disneyland and all the graduation ceremonies we end the final year of our successful ninth grade class at Francis W. Parker.



GARY BENCH

Gary is an all-around good guy: amusing, considerate, unassuming, an excellent athlete whose talents the basketball, baseball and track teams were glad to have. With all these fine qualities, he'll have a terrific "bedside manner" if he fulfills his ambition to be a doctor.

BOB DICKINSON

As the love-sick young bridegroom in The Patchwork Quilt, Bob showed a proficiency in acting. He tries hard and will finish all he undertakes with the same self-confidence with which he starts. His consideration has made him well-liked among both teachers and students.

ANNE DURRILL

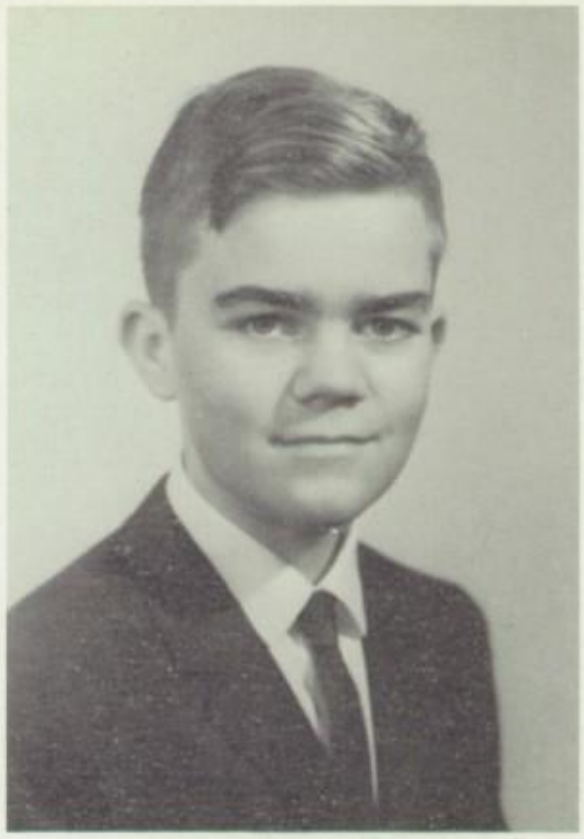
Anne's warm smile reflects her willingness to lend a helping hand, even though it means taking time out from the stubborn pursuit of her own goals. Hard work and perseverance have gained for her the fine grades she deserves. And when she relaxes after another accomplishment, out comes her celebrated poetry.

JEANNE FORD

Jeannie, our Student Council president, is a great one for pulling funnies. She's a fine athlete and very well-known for stubbornly sticking to the point in the "God-is-dead" debates in History. Her sense of humor is always with her (especially in English) thereby adding much to the ninth grade.

DEBBY HADLEY

In spite of her love for dancing, our gifted ballerina, Debby, still maintains top grades in all of her classes. In her ten years at Parker, Debby's droll, dry sense of humor, maturity, and frankness have won her many friends, all of whom wish her the best of luck in her future dancing.



JAMIE HANRAHAN

Jamie's interests lie along scientific, mathematical, and political lines. In addition, he has a definite flair for writing. The latter gift resulted in his appointment as co-editor of the AEGIS. Since the sixth grade he has been a lively influence on the Parker campus.

MIKE HEGARTY

It's easy to get to know Mike when you've started him on his favorite subject: cars. He can tell you anyhting you want to know about racing and is never happier than when tinkering with a stock car. This makes us sure that he will be the next Dan Gurney.

VIRGINIA KELLY

Once you get through her surface reserve, you find Ginny to be a warm, loyal friend. Her clear-headed debating is often seasoned with delightful humor which has broken many a deadlock. She is sometimes painfully blunt but there is always a legitimate reason for her comments.

LIZ LONG

Surfer Liz shows her great school spirit by the hard work she's done as the Girl's League president and head cheerleader. Her off-beat sense of humor and ability to brighten anybody's day with her lively antics — whether in classes, assemblies, or dances — make her a real asset to have when things get dull.

LINDA LONGLEY

Linda, the excellent secretary of the Student Council, is always thinking of the other person and imaginatively working to help both the school and the individual student. Her warm, friendly personality and genuine concern for people has made her universally liked at Parker.

SUSAN McCOY

Sue's numerous activities include enthusiastic participation in the Girl's League and as a cheerleader. In school, she works very hard and will immediately acquiesce when asked to do something to help. She is especially popular with children whom she adores. Out of school, Sue is an ardent bowler. All in all, she is one of the busiest girls at school.

MIKE McLEES

Mike, the strong, silent type, is a fine athlete whose height has been a real asset to the basketball team. He has the kind of mind which can read things into dry facts supplementing his ability in debating. His strong, well-defined personality will long be remembered by classmates at Parker.

ELLEN MOFFAT

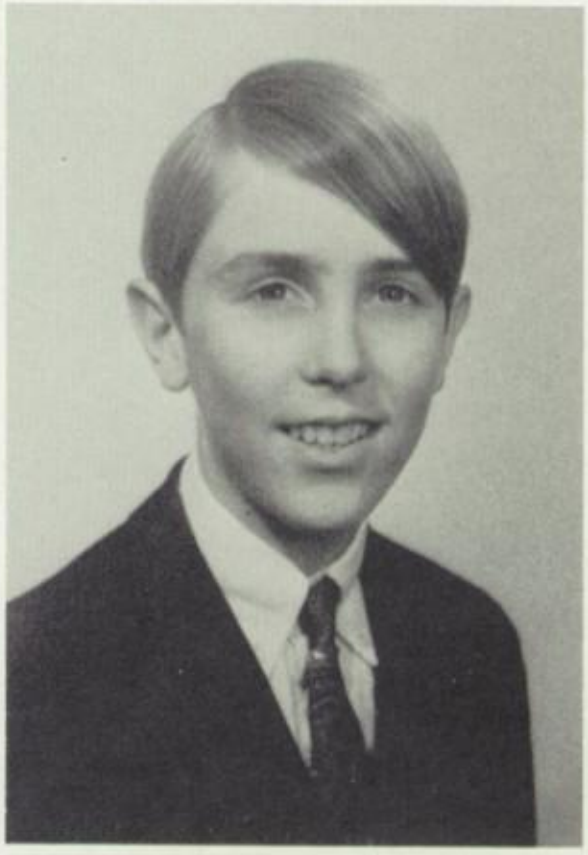
Ellen's willingness to co-operate, wit, and cheerful, chirpy voice have made her one of the best-liked people at Parker. But she will stay here till midnight arguing her point if she must. But that is usually not necessary since her rapid-fire talk tires out her antagonist, and Ellen again wins your affection.

RICKY PHILLIPS

A hilarious, witty comedian is the Ricky to whom we are most often exposed. However, anyone who knows him well recognizes his tremendous potential, thanks to an abundance of brains, and literary and characterization talents. His clowning is sure to bring him to the attention of future acquaintances who will discover his fine individuality.

MIKE SATTERLEE

Mike's attache case and trench coat make him look the part of his ambitions: to follow in the footsteps of Napoleon Solo and Illya Kuryakin. Mike believes in getting things done quickly, which numbed the rest of us with envy when he finished his term paper two weeks early and relaxed while we slaved.

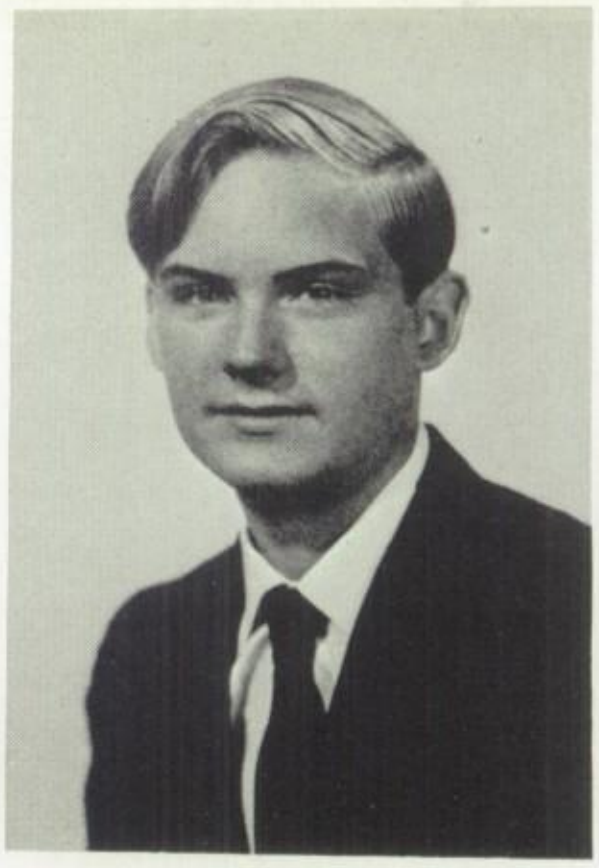


KEVIN SCHLECT

Although he just came this year, Kevin, a born diplomat, has already made his mark as a suave, debonair girl-watcher, with an alert sense of humor. He is most intelligent and has the depth to see beyond the surface of things and people, thus he is the understanding fellow to whom we all come for comfort.

DEBBIE SHATTUCK

Debbie is our "do it" girl. It is a wonder to everyone how she manages to work on the AEGIS and ATHENE at the same time, maintain top grades in all her classes, and still find time to exercise her great love for writing by creating fascinating mystery, comedy and U.N.C.L.E. stories, which we all enjoy,so much.



BOB SWANSON

For ten years Bob has been the unobtrusive peacemaker at Francis Parker. His subtle wit is noticeably comforting to frazzled nerves prior to plays and deadlines. His poise, maturity and adaptability make him a welcome addition to any group.

DEBBIE THOMAS

We really know three Debbies: the hard-working, serious student who puts real effort behind her work; the sweet, perceptive girl with a good word for everyone and a tremendous affection for children; and the vivacious life-of-the-party who always has a ready joke. And all three of these Debbies are our favorite people.

SPORTS REVIEW

The baseball team was a different story. We won the first two games with some terrific effort on the part of our team. The second game was very close and even went into an extra inning. Both games were against Army-Navy Academy. The team went into a slump and lost the following six games. Finally, at the last play-off of the season, we were the triumphant victors of the opposing team, La Jolla Country Day.

At the beginning of the school year optimistic and energetic Mr. Schuster grouped together some boys and called them a basketball team. With much practice they got off to a good start and won their first game, but losing the next eight which completed the season.
